

1.

In which mode does the user run applications like MS world, chrome or games?

- A. Kernel mode
- B. Admin mode
- C. User mode
- D. Debug mode

Answer: C

2.

What does POST stand for during booting?

- A. Power on self test
- B. Power on Software test
- C. Programmed Operating system test
- D. Personal OS start

Answer: A

3.

Which interface uses icons and buttons to interact with the user?

- A. CUI
- B. GUI
- C. BIOS
- D. CLI

Answer: B

4.

What is usually the default name of the final output (executable) file after compilation in linux?

- A. main.out
- B. final.exe
- C. program.o
- D. a.out

Answer: D

5.

What is the .i file in the compilation process?

- A. Compiled code
- B. Preprocessed source code
- C. Executable code
- D. Assembly code

Answer: B

6.

Which of the following is true about Resident Monitors?

- A. They are reloaded every time a job runs
- B. They remain in memory throughout the execution
- C. They are stored on the hard disk permanently
- D. They are replaced by device drivers

Answer: B

7.

Multiprogramming improves system performance by_____.

- A. Increasing I/O devices
- B. Allowing parallel printing
- C. Reducing idle time of CPU
- D. Using graphical interface

Answer: C